CETAF working groups updates

Earth Sciences Group (Johanna Eder (NHM Stuttgart)). The group published an article on Hazard and Disaster Events in the Journal of Research Ideas and Outcomes. It is currently working on a virtual exhibition using the results of their survey on geohazards. Contact: johanna.eder@smns-bw.de.

Legislation and regulations Group – Ana Casino (CETAF GS), for Dirk Neumann (ZSM.MWN Munich) and Chris Lyal (NHM London). The European Commission formally recognized the CETAF Code of Conduct and Best Practices on ABS, the first and so far unique best practices available in Europe (see: <https://cetaf.org/services/natural-science-collections-and-access-and-benefit-sharing>). The group has organized a training workshop in Stockholm on 1st of April and plans to repeat this in November, in Brussels, with a much wider participation from CETAF members. Contact: dirk.neumann@zsm.mwn.de and c.lyal@nhm.ac.uk.

CETAF ISTC – Anton Güntsch (BGBM Berlin). The group is strongly involved in DiSSco-related initiatives in regards to stable identifiers of specimens. Contact: A.Guentsch@bgbm.org.

Digitization Group – Patricia Mergen RMCA Terveuren, for Elspeth Haston (RBG Edinburgh). The group has been working on developing standardized definitions of «Digitisation» across projects and actions (ICEDIG, Mobilise, Sysntesys+ and DiSSCo). The group will shortly publish its findings and updates on digitization activities are available via the group's wiki pages. Contact: E.Haston@rbge.ac.uk.

Collections Group – Christiane Quaiser (MfN Berlin). CQ will step down as group coordinator Luc Willemse (Naturalis, Leiden) will become the new coordinator. The group will focus on the policies, procedures and standards affecting collections management and their further improvement. Contact: luc.willemse@naturalis.nl.

Executive Report of the CETAF 45th General Meeting 15-16 May 2019, Tartu, Estonia

European Advisory Group – Vanessa Demanoff (MNHN, Paris) & Carole Paleco (RBINS, Brussels). The new funding programme Horizon Europe proposes new instruments and tools, with a Mission-oriented approach and with a Partnerships-based approach. The group will develop a CETAF Mission Proposal on biodiversity based on the feedback received from members. Contact: ana.casino@cetaf.org and vanessa.demanoff@mnhn.fr.

Biodiversity Monitoring Group – Livia Schäffler (ZFMK Bonn). The group has been working towards submitting a COST Action in upcoming call due on September 2019 and identifying stakeholders with whom to collaborate. Contact: W.Waegele@zfmk.de, and L.Schaeffler@leibniz-zfmk.de.

e-Publishing Group – Laurence Bénichou (MNHN, Paris). The group is focusing on the following activities: 1) inventorying CETAF institutional journals; 2) analysing the impact of e-publishing; 3) implementation of identifiers on publications; 4) developing a publishing platform, and 5) categorising taxonomy in Clarivate analytics tools. Contact: laurence.benichou@mnhn.fr and isabelle.gerard@africamuseum.be.

CETAF Discussion session

A discussion on the global scientific and strategic vision for CETAF was opened with three main themes highlighted:

- How does the IPBES report influence the CETAF agenda?
- How do we better link taxonomy to biodiversity?
- How should we respond to European citizen's rising environmental awareness?

CETAF members agreed to further explore these issues in an upcoming meeting.

News from CETAF strategic partners

Biodiversity Heritage Library (BHL) Jane Smith (NHM London). BHL is finalizing the transfer of content files from BHL Europe for integration into BHL. Full text searching of BHL was made available in May of 2018 and BHL is currently working on a new transcription tool to facilitate the incorporation / interpretation of journals and notebooks.

Society for the Preservation of Natural History Collections-SPNHC. The Memorandum of Understanding between both organizations has been signed by both Chairs and will act as the framework for collaboration and the development of joint activities, such as ABS workshops and training, or collections management issues.

Future CETAF actions

- CETAF Position Paper on Horizon Europe (European Initiatives Advisory Group)
- CETAF Position paper on Natural History Collections (CETAF EC and task-force)
- CETAF Position paper on Taxonomy (CETAF EC and task-force)
- CETAF statement – Vision for taxonomy (CETAF EC and task-force)
- CETAF Objectives for 2020-2025 (Executive Committee)
